Howard Kimmell, of R. F. D. No. 9, brought a peculiar egg to the office of The News this morning. The egg was laid by a full grown Rhode Island Red hen, and seemed to be two eggs joined together. The egg was smaller, too than the usual egg laid by a Rhode Island Red, resembling a huge medicine capsule in shape.

Randall Park, of Edenburg, sent some fine peppers to The News this morning, which were raised on his garden plot this summer. They were the largest seen this year, when most crops have been reduced, both in size and quantity, by the dry weather.

The annual flower and vegetable exhibitions which the New Castle schools sponsor just after the term opens in the fall are more and more attracting parents who are in position to attend. We hear the Arthur McGill school, Albert street, has a show planned for Tuesday. It's probably the first for this year.

Tonight will be a big one for Lawrence county's scouting family, for the boys, their leaders, the councilmen, the commissioners and the boys' parents are to stage a picnic at Camp Phillips. Mr. Weatherman will be counted on to crown the event a success.

While visiting on the Joseph Schweigert place on Sheep Hill the other day, Mrs. Howard F. Magill of Garfield avenue, came upon a plum tree on which she found many double plums, in fact there was hardly a limb on which there was HAVANA, Sept. 9.—Entrenched behind the bayonets of its army, the revolutionary government of Cuba today maintained order on the island while striving desperately to organize an administration acceptable to the United States.

The "governing board of five" placed in power by the revolt of army sergeants continued to administer the government in the face of countless opposition rumors.

It operated all governmental departments while announcing that peace and order prevailed throughout the length of the island.

Survives Two Blows.
The revolutionary administration survived, for the time being, two real blows. One was the action of 200 former army and navy officers in repudiating the present administration and pledging allegiance to President De Cespedes.

The other was the verdict of the ABC instructing all its members to resign their posts in the temporary government.

This drew a dozen prominent citizens from key positions, topped by Francisco Guardiola as sub-secretary of the treasury.

Reports that the Junta had resigned, or was ready to resign, were indignantly denied at the palace. A

Are Commissioners Entitled

$3,000 Salary?

JUDGE McLAUGHRY
IS CALLED ON CASE

Whether or not county commissioners are entitled to $600 salary for acting as a poor board, in addition to the $3,000 paid for acting as county commissioners, was the question involved in arguments made at court this morning before Judge James A. McLaughry of Mercer county and R. L. Hildebrand of Lawrence county.

The title of the case was County of Lawrence against Calvin C. Boyd and T. J. McCullough, former county commissioners, and F. O. Elder, former and present county commissioner. The case grew out of an appeal by taxpayers from the report of auditors and county controller for the year 1931.

It was claimed that the county commissioners had been paid $600 each for their services in acting as poor directors, in addition to $3,000 salary each as county commissioners, that payment was illegal under a recent act and that the commissioners should be surcharged with the amount.

Subsequently an issue was framed by the court, and it was upon this issue that arguments were made this morning. Attorneys Wylie McCaslin and Clarence Patterson appeared for the taxpayers and J. Norman Martin for the commissioners.

Present Arguments.
Attorney McCaslin presented the petition of the taxpayers and the answer which had been filed in behalf of the county commissioners, pointing out the differences between the petition and the answer, as well as other matters connected with the case.

Attorney Clarence Patterson argued the law points involved. He stated that under the act of 1927, governing counties of the third, fourth, fifth and sixth classes, the ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 9.—Total deaths in the current sleeping sickness epidemic stood at 99 today as research scientists announced the first forward step in their search for the medium of transmission among humans.

Eleven deaths in a 24-hour period challenged the corps of laboratory experts working to curb the dread disease. A total of 635 cases have been reported to health authorities

That monkeys apparently have been successfully inoculated with the encephalitis germ was announced in a report made by Public Health Service and Washington University physicians to Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming.

The physicians will next attempt to establish the mode of transmission in humans by attempts to spread the disease from one animal to the others.

Six American Naval
Seaplanes Make Record
For Formation Flying

(International News Service)
COCO SOLO NAVAL AIR BASE, C. Z., Sept. 9.—New holders of the world's record for non-stop formation flying, officers and crews of six American naval seaplanes rested today after a flight from Norfolk, Va., and declined to reveal their immediate plans.

They would not comment on rumors they would proceed on to the California coast and perhaps even to Hawaii in search of new laurels and in a new test of the fighting planes stamina.

They landed at 1:58 miles. The planes, under the command of Lieut. Commander D. M. Carpenter, arrived here at 6:22 p. m. last night, 24 hours and 52 minutes after leaving Norfolk on a hop shrouded in secrecy.

Their record was placed at 1,788 nautical miles of non-stop flying in formation, shattering the previous mark of 1,618 nautical miles held by Gen. Italo Balbo of Italy and the fleet he piloted over the south Atlantic in 1931.

COCO SOLO NAVAL AIR BASE, C. Z., Sept. 9.—All planes regularly stationed at the Coco Solo base hopped off at 7:15 a. m. today (8:15 a. m. E. D. T.) on a ten-day practice flight.

The naval communications office said the planes would fly to Porto Culebra, Nicaragua, where they will meet the U. S. S. Wright and participate in maneuvers.

The planes were captained by Commander R. P. Molten, commandant of the naval air station. Unofficial reports said the planes will continue to California and Hawaii after meeting the Wright. The navy refused to confirm these reports.

NRA Administrator Hopes For Agreement On Proposed Coal Code

SOME REVISION

Monday's Hearing May Be Postponed — Operators Assail Original Code

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The iron hand of the Federal government was held over bituminous coal operators today as National Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson sought to persuade the industry to accept a code of fair competition. After a tense few hours, during which it appeared the whole campaign of the NRA might fail, there appeared a possibility of winning reluctant consent of most of the operators to the proposed code.

Some Revision
Johnson was ready to revise and modify the code to meet some of the objections of operators. But at the same time was preparing to ask President Roosevelt to summarily impose a code on the industry.

Keeping in close touch with the White House, Johnson combined a conciliatory attitude with a blunt warning to the bituminous operators of the great Appalachian field.

Bituminous operators had until 6 p. m. today to formally object to the N. R. A's drastic code which shortens working hours in the mines provides virtual compulsory arbitration.

(International News Service)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 9.—Apparently strangled, 10-year-old Margaret McCarthy, who disappeared yesterday when she did an errand at the store, was found murdered today in a clump of bushes outside the Harvard divinity school.

Marks of the killer's hands were on the child's throat, police said. An empty pint bottle was found wrapped in brown paper nearby. Police said they believed the child was a victim of an assault.

The scene where the body was found is in a residential section of the city, about a mile from the McCarthy home.

Margaret was seen last late yesterday when she left her home in Somerville to purchase a bottle of shoe polish. The shoe store proprietor told police she had received the polish, was given 10 cents in change and left.

She was to have entered the sixth grade in the St. Joseph's parochial school on Monday.

A wide search for her had been conducted last night by more than 50 relatives and friends after she failed to come home.

Syling Makes School Survey

Extra Teachers Needed In Some Townships To Care For Pupils

MANY ROOMS HAVE BIG ENROLLMENT

Attendance figures in the rural schools of Lawrence county seem to have taken a big jump this fall, County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling reported today, after a survey of the schools made following the general opening this week.

Many rooms were found that had anywhere from 50 to 73 pupils being taken care of by one teacher, and in one township, it was necessary to put on two extra teachers to take care of the increase.

County Superintendent Syling found few vacant houses in the rural district, and accounts for the big increase in attendance to the fact that there has been a migration to the rural sections, onto farms and to rural communities.

Just what the increase over last year will amount to will not be determined for some little time.

Balancing a budget is easy. You just take a little more to the gas tax and take a little more from the teachers.

JOHNSON SEEKING CODE ACCEPTANCE BY COAL INDUSTRY

tion of labor disputes and paves the way for peace and production control.

The hearing scheduled for Monday may be postponed because Johnson's eagerness to win the consent of operators to the code. He won similar consent from the oil magnates after a long and bitter quarrel.

Hopes For Agreed Code

"I'll get an agreed code if I can," he said. "I think I can get it. This thing has not busted up—it is going along."

Modification of the code probably will be made, Johnson said. The changes are expected to deal principally with provisions for control of labor situations.

The "four horsemen" of the Appalachian field—J. D. Morrow, R. E. Taggart, Charles O'Neill and James Francis—were considering formal objections to the code. Western operators met under the leadership of George Harrington of Chicago to consider objections, while the United Mine Workers policy committee was also studying the code.

The "four horsemen" sent a letter to Johnson assailing the code, which Johnson refused to receive. He is reported to have declared the letter an insult to the president. A meeting in Johnson's office followed, after which Johnson indicated a difficult situation had been bridged. The operators were not expected to return today.

May Postpone Hearing
The next step will be the hearing scheduled for Monday, and it may be postponed 24 hours," said Johnson.

The Appalachian operators, for years non-union, objected to the elaborate method proposed by Johnson to settle labor disputes. They also objected to the proposed regional sales plan on the ground it did not provide a clear method of control of prices.

Linked with the code problem was the effort to bring union labor and the operators into agreement. Negotiations, temporarily broken off yesterday, were to be resumed.

While the bituminous coal situation was held to be a real threat to the N. R. A. progress was reported in many other lines. President Roosevelt approved four codes of fair competition, for the motion picture laboratory, cast iron soil pipe, wall paper and leather industries.

Reports from the field declared that the blue eagle drive was proceeding satisfactorily in all parts of the nation.

The case of Henry Ford was still unsettled, with recovery officials hopeful that a way can be found to bring him under the blue eagle.

Property Tax Payment Not Required For Voters To Be Registered Here

In explanation of the exceptionally light registration thus far in the city of New Castle, it has been suggested that many property owners have not yet paid their property taxes and thought they could not pay their occupational taxes unless the rest were paid.

County Treasurer W. O. Pitts stated today that the occupational taxes would be separated from the general property taxes if the taxpayer so desired, and that his occupational tax receipt was good for registration. In other words, a man who owed $150 property tax, but could not pay it, could be paying his occupational tax, running around $150, be qualified to vote.

To do this requires the separation of the tax on the duplicate in the county commissioners' office, but the commissioners are willing to do it.

Miss Emma Snyder, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Snyder, of Hopewell, was shot to death last night while riding with William Steel, 24, of Cypher Beach, a summer colony in Bedford county. Police were unable to learn whether the shot was intended for the Snyder girl or the Steel boy.

Following the shooting the younger Steel told police he saw his father, armed with a rifle, standing along the highway near his home as he drove by. The bullet which killed the girl entered the back of her head.

State police and Everett Police Chief Yoder arrested the father some time after the shooting.

salary of county commissioners was set at $3000. A clause in the act, he said, repealed all former acts.

Under the act of 1917 salaries were placed at $200 for county commissioners, and $600 additional if the commissioners acted as a poor board. This act, he claimed, so far as the poor board was concerned, was repealed by the act of 1927. A similar question as to that involved in the case here was taken up from Clearfield county, he said to the supreme court, and that court had held that the 1927 act repealed the 1917 act. The only difference was that Clearfield is a fifth class county while Lawrence is sixth. The principle involved, he said, was the same.

There was also an act passed in 1923 relating to the pay of commissioners and poor boards, which it was held was repealed by the act of 1927. His contention was that under the law as it now stands the county commissioners can only draw $3000 for their services as commissioners and poor directors.

Former Judge J. Norman Martin, for the commissioners, contended that this case being what is technically known as a feigned issue, the acts of 1917 and of 1927 had nothing to do with it. His argument was almost wholly along the line that the wrong procedure had been followed in bringing the case, that it did not conform to the rules of court, and therefore ought to have no standing in court.

At the close of the arguments the papers in the case were submitted to the court. An opinion will be handed down later. Since the bringing of the action the county commissioners have not been drawing the $600 each for acting as a poor board.

Announcement was made today by Chairman Julius Blaha, of the executive committee of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, of the acceptance of John C. There was also an act passed in 1923 relating to the pay of commissioners and poor boards, which it was held was repealed by the act of 1927. His contention was that under the law as it now stands the county commissioners can only draw $3000 for their services as commissioners and poor directors.

Former Judge J. Norman Martin, for the commissioners, contended that this case being what is technically known as a feigned issue, the acts of 1917 and of 1927 had nothing to do with it. His argument was almost wholly along the line that the wrong procedure had been followed in bringing the case, that it did not conform to the rules of court, and therefore ought to have no standing in court.

At the close of the arguments the papers in the case were submitted to the court. An opinion will be handed down later. Since the bringing of the action the county commissioners have not been drawing the $600 each for acting as a poor board.

THE ADMINISTRATION AND CUBA

THE gravity of the situation in Cuba can not be minimized. The despatch of American warships and the preparations to land Marines, if needful, are sufficient indications of the fact. Yet it is clear that the President is not likely to act hastily. Intervention is a step to be taken only when all others have failed. The growing disorders in the island testify to the importance of the new Government. It has not yet shown the ability, or perhaps the disposition, to live up to the terms of its flimsy manifesto. In the circumstances it would be criminal negligence not to be ready for the worst.

In placing before the diplomatic representatives in Washington of the Latin-American countries a brief but clear statement of American policy at this crisis, the President was well advised. One difficulty in dealing with our Southern neighbors has always been their suspicion of our purposes. It would be easy at this time to offend their susceptibilities by taking a too aggressive attitude against the Cuban revolutionists. So the President spoke of intervention as a last resort, and expressed the hope that the Cuban people would have a Government capable of maintaining order as quickly as possible. There can be no recognition of it, of course, until this is achieved.

The departure of the Secretary of the Navy for Havana is a rather unusual action. The President is evidently desirous of having a member of his official family on the ground, where he can observe and report upon the situation. It is at best a difficult one.

WILD LIFE INCREASING

Uncle Sam's latest big game "census" is out. While the accuracy of the figures is not guaranteed, the experience of forest rangers and others in estimating the number of animals in particular areas makes the report far more than the result of mere guess-work.

The total number of big game animals in the 148 national forests is placed at 1,163,141, which represents an approximate increase of 40 per cent since 1926. This increase was not a steady one, as the latest total was slightly lower than the 1931 figures.

While most of the big game continue to be found in the national forests, wild life is being gradually increased in certain states under protection and planned management, it is disclosed. This is a reflection of growing interest in the subject being shown by individual states.

It is interesting to note that grizzly bears in national forests showed a gratifying increase in the latest census, their number being placed at 5,164 as against 3,747 for the preceding year. In Alaska, however, the total dropped from 747 to 664. The total of black and brown bears is 62,501, an increase from 50,596.

Although elk were reported increasing in the national forests of the West, only about 60 remained in the forests of the East. Especially gratifying to hunters will be the large increase reported among deer.

The preservation of America's wild life very properly is claiming important attention from the federal government. The duty, however, is one which should not be confined to the national government. States, likewise, should interest themselves in the matter. Many including Pennsylvania are doing this. It's a worthwhile work.

GLORIOUS SEASON

Nature is speaking sweetly in these dying days of summer. Her message is one of the serious and beautiful things of life. To feel it, go out among the trees and hills, near some lagging river or brook and witness the passing of a season.

The beauty of fall is the red-grey glow of reminiscence. Trees that we remember budding into brilliant green in spring are fading. A fading tree speaks mutely of how splendid a thing age can be. It is a great art to fade beautifully.

The hills that had been clothed with the vigor of bright greens have taken a quieter, more peaceful outlook now. It is as though age, in a pretty shawl, sat rocking peacefully, remembering and waiting.

Down in the valley all is quiet and lovely. The boisterous brook of the spring is singing a different song now, a melody of contentment. Along the banks the trees nod gravely, the trees that had known and gloried in the lashing passion of summer storms.

A miracle of miracles is working in the outdoors now. To witness it is to know a little more about life—and peace.

A NEEDED REFORM

In his reported plan to eliminate useless army posts now scattered throughout the country, President Roosevelt has set his hand to a task long recognized as needing to be performed but which has defied repeated efforts in this direction.

Politics is responsible for failure in the past. Whether the present executive can overcome this obstacle remains to be seen.

No sound reasons exist for continuance of the 350 military establishments now being maintained in various parts of the country. Many of them are entirely valueless, but the protests of politicians have prevented their abolition. President Roosevelt is said to contemplate the carrying out of a consolidation plan which will cut out the posts not needed but leaves a sufficient number to take care of the army's requirements. Both economy and military efficiency would be served.

From politicians in states in which are posts that would be abolished there will come protests. No state likes to lose any federal establishment. How much useless forts now are costing the country is not known, but the total must amount to a considerable sum.

It is to be hoped that the president can and will carry out his reported program and give the country a reform long needed.

I don't think I'm a snob, but I think I'm prejudiced against men who shake hands limply.

I like to win—at anything.

I secretly believe that men are better automobile drivers than women. . . . One side of me denies this, but the inborn "masculine" side insists it is true.

Whenever I'm in difficulties, my first impulse is to find someone else to blame. . . . If I can do that, I feel much better.

I admire a cat's calm and selfish composure, but I resent it, too.

I wish my hair didn't stick up in the back.

I can't wear a new suit with aplomb and self-possession.

I wish I had a new car.

SELF-CONTROL
If you cannot control yourself, you cannot expect to control others.

You may create scenes and otherwise carry on with a high hand to get what you want, but what you gain will be little in the end.

That sort of tactics creates antagonism and is selfish.

Who are you that you should have what you want rather than the other fellow?

And how your children will take it out on you some day in return for the exhibitions you make of high temper before them!

Children are even more observant than older people.

What they do is more or less a reflection of what they see.

If you have little regard for truth, you must expect untruthful children and could anything be worse as a life companion?

To carry forward your own plans and be obliged to resort to deceit or subterfuge to gain your end is just as quickly grasped by the children as others.

Tempestuous scenes are merely lack of self control.

You do not command respect—perhaps you don't want that so much as to have others fear your tantrums.

For shame on such an attitude when kind understanding would work better.

And your self-respect will be much greater.

FUTURE GROWTH
He who doubts the future doubts the past.

And beaten is before the struggle starts.

Tomorrow is the field for fighting hearts.

A scene unlighted now but wide and vast.

Where men in splendid roles shall soon be cast.

And boys today shall rise to noble parts.

Many remember when men rode in carts.

And fancied ten miles to the hour was moving fast.

Tomorrow holds adventure for us all.

Where now we see but dimly skies shall clear.

No man can tell what next old fact shall fall.

Nor what discovery mark the coming year.

But from the past this truth we can recall.

Growth and achievement mark men's journey here.

Howdy, Hints and Dints: Sometimes when I am all alone, and maybe a little blue, there comes to my mind a thought that may be carried by words such as these:
I wonder why some people choose to lead a lonely life when loneliness seems, at least to me, the most depressing of all things.

Perhaps some have been disappointed in love. Then if that's all that ails them they are foolish, for true love never comes until the love of one is as true as the love of the other. If you ever have been "jilted," then it's a hundred to one that she wasn't the one that could have made you happy. Listen!

Everything has been going wrong. Money lost, some one given that promotion that you deserved; bills to pay; most of your "friends" have forgotten you. You are sitting with your chin propped up by your elbow, and you wonder what's the use of going on like this. Why not?

Some one is bending over you; now a head is pressed against your shoulder; you feel a damp cheek against yours. Then—

"Honey, don't; stop worrying, dear. Please. You make me feel so bad; just forget it, it will be all right; I'll help. You will always be the most wonderful man in all the world to me. I love you, so dear—I love you, love you—"

And there's a catching in your throat, and for the life of you all you can say is—"Sweetheart!"
A little curly yellow head with sparkling blue eyes shows around the edge of a chair; a little voice, sweet and clear, "Peep eye, I see you." Then it disappears, now shows around the other side of the chair, "Papa love mama?"

WHAT'S THE ANSWER

Dear Fred:
A man in New York was hauled into court some time ago and charged with running an "orange racket."

But was he guilty?

Mr. X ran ads in California and Florida newspapers inviting growers to send him their prize oranges. He offered a prize of $50 for the best orange in the show—conducted privately by Mr. X.

There was an avalanche of oranges.

Now Mr. X did pay the $50 prize to one grower. His promise was fulfilled. But what was he to do with the rest of the oranges? He couldn't send them back to the growers because of the heavy toll in express charges. And neither could he let the oranges rot.

So Mr. X thought of an idea. He hauled the oranges by truckloads to a storage house and then set himself up as a fancy fruit dealer. He did a rushing business with hotels, restaurants and commission merchants. He made over $10,000 in that business.

Then the authorities took charge of the case. In court Mr. X was bewildered. "What have I done?" he asked. "I paid the prize. How could I send the oranges back? Fruit is perishable—and why should I let them rot?"
Was Mr. X guilty?
Yours.

Country Merrily Responds
To Senator Long's Brief Act

Louisiana Legislator Receives Assurance That There Is Great Interest In Mysterious Attack On Him At Long Island Club

Senator Huey Long of Louisiana has received much attention since his eye was blackened in a clubhouse on Long Island. The mystery of who did the job and who remains unsolved while everybody laughs at the Kingfish's story that he was ganged by hirelings of the "interests."

"Who that loves his country," asks the NEW YORK TIMES, "can doubt that the hired braves of the 'interests' perpetrated this outrage upon a poise so wise and so beloved? This arch mischief is no private affair. Even if no knife was drawn, to sock the friend of the people in the eye is a crime against the people. What is more and most of all, Huey Long is an illustrious member of the most illustrious body on earth. As that body can do no wrong, so it should suffer no wrong. By an undoubted conspiracy of the minions of the Money Power, the eye of a senator and the dignity of the Senate have been punched. One of its first and clearest duties when it meets next January will be the appointment of a special committee to investigate this battle of Long Island. Huey's retreat was mastery. Now the nation expects from him a victorious advance against the foe."

"Travel, it is generally agreed," according to the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, "is broadening. Huey seems to have found it flattening as well. Within the restricted boundaries of his home parishes and in the privileged atmosphere of the Senate, Huey enjoys that freedom from restraint which delights his soul and enables him in very truth to be the Kingfish. Therefore, all things considered, the unknown gentleman of the wallop appears to have contributed usefully to Huey's education."

The MINNEAPOLIS TRIBUNE feels that, "come what may, the country may rest assured it will not be deprived of his genius so long as he can speak above a whisper." The MILWAUKEE JOURNAL adds that "not all heroes are conquerors, and a patron of music may bear a scar after a Long Island charity benefit, proud emblem of a battle for the common people, nobly fought against odds and, nobly lost."

"His black eye spoke for itself," suggests the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, with the conclusion that "it has been proved that, in dull seasons, with Congress adjourned, Senators may still furnish news," though that paper inclines to the belief that "during his career, the one who is called a Kingfish, and has pride in the name, has furnished, perhaps, more than his share." The PROVIDENCE JOURNAL stresses the importance of the fact that "the blow has proved he is human, fallible and vulnerable." The ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC, citing the information that the assailant was a 200-pound ex-boxer and former army drill master, adds that the Senator was going outside his class when he got into the heavyweight division.

"The man who socked the Kingfish has but to step forth into public acclaim," advises the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, adding that "fifty million good right hands are itching to grasp the hand that did it." A correspondent of the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN quotes a section of public sentiment as holding that the Senator "should stick to the big time in Washington, and not play one-night stands." The DANBURY NEWS-TIMES comments: "Perhaps nobody intended to murder the Senator, although there were hints in certain newspaper articles that he would not be safe in New York. Perhaps

Rev. Pearson Has Served Ten Years As Pastor In City

Will Celebrate His Tenth Anniversary As Rector Of Trinity Episcopal Church

Sunday, the Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, will observe the tenth anniversary of his having assumed the duties of rector of that church, having taken up his duties as such on the first Sunday of September 1923.

During that time he has not only conducted the affairs of Trinity Parish with great credit to himself, but also to the parish and the community. In that time, Trinity Parish has been active in all religious affairs of the community and he has been one of the leaders in the religious life of the city.

Some interesting facts concerning his activities in the Diocese of Erie, the Province of Washington and the National Body of the Episcopal church in addition to his very active work in the local parish have been learned by a representative of The News by the perusal of Stowe's Clerical Directory, in which the records of all members of the Episcopal Clergy may be found.

This shows that the Rev. Mr. Pearson has been chairman of the Diocese of Erie Committee on Canons for seven years, one of the more important committees of the diocese, in that it passes upon and makes recommendations for the revision of the laws of the diocese.

He has also been chairman of the Committee on Faith and Order of the diocese for seven years and a member of the executive council of the diocese for six years. This latter is a very important duty, as the council conducts the affairs of the diocese between annual conventions. He has also been chairman of the Department of Christian Social Service in the diocese for four years.

In the larger field of activities of the Episcopal church, he has held a membership on the Commission on Christian Social Service for the five Episcopal Dioceses of Pennsylvania for four years.

For the past three years, Rev. Pearson has also been a member of the commission on Christian Social Service for the Province of Washington, which is comprised of thirteen dioceses of the Episcopal church in five states and the District of Columbia. He has been deputy to the Provincial Synod for three times. He was also deputy from the Diocese of Erie to the General Convention of the Episcopal church at New Orleans in 1925. This is the national legislative body.

To Republican Voters:

Ever since it started the Republican party has been the party of Lawrence County. By paid advertisements the Democrats have this year made a strenuous effort to increase Democratic registration. This activity has a definite purpose. It is to gain offices.

There are 12 candidates for the Republican nomination for Register and Recorder. Despite the fact that every other nomination is being contested by Democrats, they have but one candidate for Register and Recorder.

They expect to win this office. To do so will strengthen the Democrat party in Lawrence County.

of the Episcopal church, that meets every three years and to be a deputy to it, is one of the outstanding honors that may be conferred upon a minister or lay member.

Referring again to his local activities, Rev. Pearson had the honor of being president of the New Castle Ministerial Association 1929-1930, being the first Episcopal minister to occupy that position in over thirty-five years.

The members of not only his own parish but the people of the community in general are joining in congratulating him on the observance of this anniversary.

First Saturday Stock Market Session Since July Is Dull And Dragging Affair

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The stock market's first Saturday session since July 24 turned out to be a dull dragging affair with trading at so slow a pace as to make the discernment of a trend difficult.

The list for the most part held within a narrow range and showed no disposition to break out on either side of the market.

The commodity markets again were mixed with cotton comparatively steady, while wheat, and corn lost from fractions to more than 1 cent a bushel.

Liquor shares were strong under the lead of United States Industrial Alcohol and National Distillers both of which gained fractionally.

First Grid Game
Only Week Away

Coaches Benedict And Ferrare Rapidly Whipping Fine Team Into Shape

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 9.—Sports followers of this city are not inclined to be so pessimistic over the possibilities of the Ellwood High grid eleven this season, as are the local coaches.

With only one letterman left from last year's squad Coaches George "Ganz" Benedict and Mike Ferrare have done marvels with the available material in their two weeks training program, is the opinion of several prominent sportsmen of this city. True the team will be light this year, but it will be exceptional.

Even the coaches admit that they have a smooth working backfield in the persons of Bunney at quarter, Fransus at left half, Beane at right half, and Luxenberg at full. A successor to Glover at the center position has been found in Fishoner. Coach Benedict believes that there is the right stuff in Young and Steckman for a tackle and guard post respectively, and Betzel and Tammara for the wing positions. These athletes and Vatica and Kaufman waded through all opposition in the several scrimmage sessions held here. One more was scheduled for this morning.

With one more week to go before the first game with United township here on next Saturday Coaches Benedict and Ferrare will have an exceedingly dangerous eleven on the field of battle.

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 9.—Eight members of the Young Women's Missionary society of the Trinity Lutheran church were entertained in a pleasing manner last evening when they gathered at the home of Miss Frances Nelson on Glenn avenue for the regular meeting.

To Teach English
In Night School

Courses In Business, English And Contemporary Literature To Be Offered

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 9.—This question was asked several of the large employers in Ellwood City: "How can night school benefit the average stenographer or secretary?" The answer in every instance was: "By drilling them in punctuation, paraphrasing and to develop the ability to take an idea and express it intelligently in a letter." This, in brief, is what the course in business English is designed for—to make stenographers and secretaries more valuable to their employers and to develop a supply of good stenographers.

The course in contemporary literature is designed primarily not as a means to making a living, but as a means to enjoy more fully the extra leisure time which the N R A program has put at our disposal. More and more people are going to use a good portion of this time for reading. Improving their mind through the medium of books. What to read and how to read is the question night school wishes to answer for all those interested. In addition to this the course will include a study of the present day writers and their works. For those who like to read good books and who like to get the most from them, this course is of great value.

You can register for these courses at the Lincoln building next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from seven to nine.

Ellwood Places
Third In Drum
Corps Contest

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 9.—Representing in their snappy uniforms, the local drum and bugle corps of the Wilbur Randolph American Legion post placed third in a contest held last evening at Reeves stadium, Beaver Falls. This was the last of a series of six contests which have been held during the past several weeks between the Grove City, Greenville, Sharon, Meadville, Rochester and Ellwood posts.

Greenville was awarded first place, Rochester second and Ellwood City third, with a difference of less than one-half point between the three. There was only a difference of four and one-tenth points between the six entrants. In a standing for the six contests Ellwood was awarded the fourth place, with only a slight margin of difference between the first and fourth.

A pretty picture was formed when all the drum corps in union formed the letters NRA at the concluding event instead of the usual mass formation.

Ellwood Holds
Important Place
On Fight Card

George Rocco Meets Gene Kennedy In Main Bout; Three Others On Card

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 9.—An important niche will be held by Ellwood City when amateur boxers of this district climb into the roped arena of the Castle Bowl, New Castle, Monday night at 9 p. m. D. S. T. in a 24 round fight show sponsored by the Jefferson A. C. under the auspices of the A. M. A. of the A. A. U. and the Pennsylvania Commonwealth Athletic commission.

No less than four prominent local amateurs will don the gloves to do battle with worthy opponents. Headlining the card of eight splendid bouts will be the fracas between George Rocco, outstanding middleweight of the district and brother of the famous Emmett, and Gene Kennedy of Youngstown, O. They will fight at 155 pounds.

One more of Benny Rocco's stable boys, Charles Arnett of West Pittsburgh will endeavor to stop the up and coming Custy Marino of Ellwood City who is reputed to be one of the cleverest amateurs in the district. Arnett has reached the semi-finals of the Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio elimination tournament which is being staged at Farrell. These two lads will do battle at 135 pounds.

Another promising slam bang affair in the same class is the fight between Mike Kraynak of Ellwood City and Eddie Owens of New Castle. Kraynak is a good boy and is getting places fast. He will give plenty action to his New Castle opponent.

Local fans who were pleased with the performance of Tony Adamo of New Castle in the two fight shows staged in the Shelby auditorium here, will once again see this hard hitting slugger exchange blows with a worthy opponent in the person of Eddie Cioceky of Meadville in the semi-final bout. Since his last appearance here Adamo has made quite a name for himself in the district amateur ranks.

Make Ready For Y's New Season

To Drain Swimming Pool For Annual Cleansing; Season Opens Oct. 1

The job of giving the swimming pool of the New Castle Y. M. C. A. its annual scouring will be performed during the week of September 18th. Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas announced today. The pool is drained for cleansing each fall.

Director MacNicholas has begun his preliminary work on the winter season's schedule, which will be crowded with activities galore. The 1933-34 year of the physical department gets under way officially on October 1.

Cleaning a swimming pool 60 feet long requires some time, although the modern cleaning methods employed keep the pool out of operation for only several days. After the cleansing with a muriatic acid solution, it takes 18 hours for the pool to be refilled.

Women's swimming classes, along with the men's will open on October 1, the physical director made known. Boys' work will commence at that time, too.

MacNicholas this week attended the annual state employed officers' conference which the Pennsylvania Y sponsors at Eagles Mere, Pa., and learned that New Castle, in the past season, outranked every other state association in church cooperative athletic work. The New Castle church basketball league, with 15 teams, was the largest league throughout the state. Plans are to sponsor a league just as large this year.

The physical director also conferred with G. W. Moore, Harrisburg, foremost authority on the sanitation of swimming pools who is employed by the state, while away. He reports that the Harrisburg Y, former local physical director now affiliated with the Harrisburg Y, was chosen head of the Y. M. C. A. Physical Directors' Society of Pennsylvania for the year.

Officers Arrest Ellport Resident

Charge Tony Rocco With Operating Old Time Bar Room

State police officers and constables visited the place conducted by Tony Rocco, in Ellport, Friday night, confiscating quantities of liquor and beer. The place was conducted in the basement of an old church and had all the cozy appearance of an old time bar room, the officers report.

Officers Hughmanick, and Bradbury and Constables Andy Fair and Art Mee broke in on the place about ten o'clock and found Rocco and four customers there. All of them were brought to the office of Alderman James C. Brice in New Castle.

Rocco was held for court in $1500 bail and the visitors fined $10 and costs.

HIGH SCHOOL RECEPTION
Beautifully lighted and decorated, the Community House proved a fitting environment for the annual Who's Who of New Wilmington high school on Friday evening. Nearly 150 students, faculty and alumni were present to enjoy reminiscences with old classmates. Dancing and bridge were enjoyed, school songs were presented and a general feeling of enthusiasm prevailed. Kindly upper classmen aided the green frosh by acquainting them with others.

HOSTESS
Miss Helen Green was a pleasing and able hostess to members of the Young Ladies Bible class of the M. E. church at her home on the New Castle road Friday evening. Routine business was done with delightful dainties being served by the hostess later in the evening.

CLASS FRACAS
Staid old New Wilmington experienced some excitement on Friday noon when the lads of the freshman and sophomore classes engaged in a melee on Market street, thereby holding up traffic for some time. The traditional rivalry has been fermenting for some days and reached its climax on Friday. It seems that the first year lads had cut a pole, painted it, greased it, stuck large nails in it and hung their class banners on the end of the pole. Merrily the flag waved to taunt the superior sophomores. After vain attempts to climb the pole the second year lads concentrated in an attack, breaking the pole and retrieving the flag. Right then the fight started. No casualties other than bruised faces resulted.

BOOK CLUB
The Book club attended en masse the delightful chicken dinner served in the cafeteria of the Pulaski M. E. church on Thursday evening.

Believe Boy Held By Gang; Kidnap Victim

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—Missing person records and unsolved kidnappings of the last two years were scanned by local authorities today as they sought to solve the mystery of a two-year-old boy found living with members of a fake accident insurance claim ring.

Police in New York and New Jersey were actively pressed into the investigation, the former to check the birth certificate of the boy which states he is the son of two members of the ring and was born Nov. 2, 1930, although the birth certificate was issued in Albany Nov. 12, 1931.

A checkup revealed the birth certificate named Angelo Sampagnaro and Carmella Mangialico as the parents of the child. The woman, who detectives say is Sampagnaro's wife, is still in Italy.

Joseph Giordano, with whom the boy was living, is a former resident of Hopewell, N. J., from where Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., was kidnapped and slain in March, 1932.

Investigation of the boy was started when it was noticed that none of the eleven members of the ring who have been rounded up here seemed to care about his welfare. Furthermore, the boy did not look like any of the suspects.

Ten members of the ring, which has mulcted 60 insurance companies out of hundreds of thousands of dollars in fake accident claims, pleaded guilty in criminal court late yesterday. Sentencing was postponed at the request of the district attorney. The eleventh member, Anna Giordano, is a patient in Leech Farm Sanitarium.

Several Hundred Gather In Reunion At Lincoln School

Annual reunion of former pupils of Lincoln school from 1881 to 1900, teachers of the period, parents of some of the pupils, officers and members of various other school reunions of the city and county was an event of Friday evening at Lincoln school, with several hundred people in attendance.

In interest, attendance and enjoyment, it eclipsed two previous reunions of the Lincoln School association. The program, which was more or less informal, was of special interest to every person present.

Every number of the program might be designated as a feature, but the outstanding parts were the resolution of memorial presented by Rev. Robert Withers and approved by unanimous vote, in which the regret of the association was expressed for the passing away of five former pupils, May Platt Meehan, Mattie Gaston Swisher, Edward Johnson, Will Dean, husband of Elizabeth Richardson, and Chas. E. Hall, husband of Edna Hagan, and the appointment of a committee to act with other school reunions in promoting an affair honoring Professor J. L. Moser, writing teacher of the city schools for many years.

The Moser Day proposal was made by Charles H. Andrews of Reynolds-town School association and the committee appointed for Lincoln school by President Harry J. Clark consists of Charles McGrath, Dr. Samuel W. Perry and A. A. Hoyland.

Name Officers.
In the selection of officers for the ensuing year, the old officers were re-elected by acclamation for another year and are as follows: President, Harry J. Clark; vice-president, Minta Carson Buchanan; secretary, James S. Ball; treasurer, Roy Long; financial secretary, Margaret Patterson Clark.

Harry J. Clark, president, presided throughout the evening. Registration took place from 7:30 p. m. until shortly after 8 o'clock. The program then started and was carried out as speedily as possible. After the program, light refreshments were served and enjoyed by all. Hand shaking and reminiscing were enjoyed during this period of time.

Seated on the platform were former teachers, Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of school; Judge R. L. Hildebrand, Charles McGrath, Attorney George W. Muse, Mrs. Maude Whinnery Hamilton and the officers and representatives of other school reunions.

Chester P. Reynolds directed the singing, with Mrs. Elizabeth Martin Fleming as the accompanist. The program opened with America, after which the invocation was given by Rev. Robert Withers. The singing of "Old Folks At Home" followed after which James S. Ball, the sec-

Be Mine Tonight To Play Regent

Once in a blue moon a motion picture producer turns out a picture that stands out like a mountain peak against a desert horizon. When he does, the entertainment loving public doesn't have to be told it's a hit, for fifty million Yankees can't be wrong.

But what if a foreign producer turns out a smash hit? The picture is unknown, the star is unknown, and the exhibitor takes a chance in presenting it. Such a chance Spear Marousis, manager of the Regent Theater, is taking Monday and Tuesday in presenting the international motion picture hit, "Be Mine Tonight".

It is produced by British Gaumont and presented in America by Universal. The star is Klepura, the Polish operatic star. In it are stars that twinkle in the Continental constellation, but are not so well known here. It combines romance, drama, music and extravagant settings. Had it been made by an American producer, with American stars, you wouldn't need any reminder.

As it is "Be Mine Tonight" is just the sweetest, funniest, most melodic picture you've ever seen, and it will be here only two days, Monday and Tuesday. The Regent is taking a chance in presenting a picture made in another land. Will you take a chance and be rewarded with the smartest picture of the year?

Beginning Wednesday, Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts open in "His First Mate".

SPEAKS ON COURT HOUSE

Sept. 5, 1933.

Editor News,
New Castle, Pa.

Being a voter and also a property owner of Lawrence county and living so close to its county line, I was disappointed to learn that our court house was in such a rundown and most disastrous condition. Surely something must be done and done quickly, or this animal will go into a stage of coma and may not recover.

Now let us see what remedy may be applied and still keep the property owner's title in his or her name. Some years ago a Lawrence county attorney, returning from a trip to England, reported that our court house was as good as the one in the City of London. Now this out of date stuff does not appeal to the average taxpayer, even though he has been contending with out of date stuff at home and may have to continue to if taxation keeps increasing instead of decreasing. Government salaried men can tell us of a good many modern things that we should have to keep within the bounds of the up-to-date times.

Wouldn't this be a good old world if we could have all the things that we wished for? How much of the money for this new court house do we have at hand? Where does the federal government get this money it is going to give us? How many thousands of dollars are filed against farms and homes in Lawrence county for taxes and how many more will be filed this present year? How many thousands of dollars worth of bonds for schools and roads, and so forth, does Lawrence county owe? Where does Lawrence county get this money, if it is not through taxes? Would it not be more essential to the average taxpayer to have a court house that is a little old fashioned by improving its needs if it be necessary by a much less cost than to build a modern one with a future indebtedness that more than doubles itself before being paid for?

Let us clear up the present indebtedness before we drop into another hole like we found ourselves in during the past depression. Let us be thankful if we are on the right road out, and live in the hope of none in the future. I thank you.

CHICAGO CUBS DEFEATS BRAVES

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service
Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Baseball said thanks today to the Chicago Cubs.

Just when everyone was getting somewhat bored with the daily ups and downs of New York and Pittsburgh, along came the Bruins, grinning like Century of Progress guides and quite as anxious to go places and see things.

Cubs Win Again
Giving the late and deeply mourned Boston Braves an 8 to 3 beating, Chicago stretched its win streak to five games and moved right into a tie with the second place Pirates, six and a half games in back of the National League leaders, the Giants. While the Giants open a series today against the often feeble Cincinnati Reds and the Pirates pitch on the dazed Dodgers, Chicago engages the phlegmatic Phillies and anything may happen, as it probably will. The Cubs were clicking nicely against Boston as Guy Bush handed out only eight hits, four of which went to Jordan Baxter, Babe Herman matched Jordan's efforts with four safeties and his teammates threw in eight more.

Pirates Beaten
Carl Hubbell was the gent who saved the Giants just when another defeat by the Pirates might have put a permanent crimp, or at least a wave, in their pennant drive. Carl refused to stand for more than six blows and the Giants rolled it off, 2 to 1. The Pirates took the series, three to two, which was good, but not good enough. Five battles with Cincinnati look like ice cream to the New Yorkers and then they wheel into Chicago for a vital series of six games, which would decide whether the Giants are going to be stopped.

Manager Joe Cronin bugged four safeties and Alvin Crowder was effective against four faltering Chicago White Sox pitchers as the Washington Senators triumphed, 11 to 2. Crowder aided his 22nd win of the season with a couple of smacking doubles.

Yankees Win
Russell Van Atta, a Yankee hurler, who has been ailing, was full of vim, holding the St. Louis Browns to four hits. Tony Lazzeri, too, defied time's toll and cracked a triple and a double, the New Yorkers winning, 5 to 3. Dick Coffman, up from Milwaukee, said Hello to the Porcelains in the fifth under Yankee Shelling and E. Garland (Piping Rock) Braxton lasted to the eighth, Honest Sam Gray finishing for the Browns.

The Athletics captured their third straight from Cleveland, 9 to 2, and threatened to oust the Indians from third place in the American circuit. Cain was good for only six hits and was helped along by Jimmy Fox, who recorded home No. 42.

Sox Are Humbled
Detroit humbled Boston's Red Sox twice, grabbing both games with 4 to 3 scores. A four-run revolt against ivy Paul Andrews in the sixth accounted for the first game and three hits by Fox helped Hogs to success in the second.

Chuck Klein of the Phillies took the National League home run race lead with homer No. 27 but Durocher of St. Louis got one that was more important and the Cardinals won, 6 to 5.

Things fell apart for Brooklyn against Cincinnati, the Reds gangling up on the Dodgers for a 12 to 0 lambasting. Silas Johnson was feeling fine and six scattered blows were all Brooklyn could manage, while the Reds picked up 13 off Thurston, Ryan and Leonard of the Dodgers.

Crawford May Win Title At Forest Hills

Australian Star Is Expected To Wade Through Shields-Stoefen-Perry

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 9.—It becomes increasingly apparent Jack Crawford, the Australian star, is going to make the grand slam in tennis by adding the American title to the cluster of British, French and Australian championships he has already garnered this year.

It seems quite likely, too, that for the second time in history we shall have to see foreigners playing the final match for our title. We had an all-French final in 1926 when Cochet beat Borotra.

Unless there is a decided upset in the men's national championship semi-final today, Fred Perry, British champion, will face Crawford in the final with the odds all in favor of the Australian.

Perry-Stoefen.
Perry meets Lester Stoefen, the Los Angeles giant, and Crawford tackles Frank Shields, the New Yorker, who is unbeaten on the grass this year and if they run to form Crawford and Perry should win. Shields might beat Perry, if he had the chance, but it is too much to expect him to trim the greatest player in the world.

Off their record in the tournament, Stoefen's case is almost hopeless. His backhand is weaker than near beer and he has only a hard service to offer the superior all-around skill of the Britisher. Perry is the best court coverer in the tournament, and it is hard to see where Stoefen has the remotest chance to win.

Shields should give Crawford the greatest fight the Australian has all year. So far no one but Sidney Wood has been able to make him run a step.

Jimmy Pagley won the Municipal Caddy Championship in hand y fashion this week, when he defeated Mike Zuk in the finals, taking the 36-hole final match in easy fashion.

Pagley shot brilliant golf all through the elimination series, and continued his brilliant display in the final round, Zuk offering little competition for his more experienced competitor.

Members of the service division trekked to Sharon last evening, where they met the golfers of the Mercer county district in the final golf session of the season, at the Tam-O-Shanter course.

There were around 50 golfers present for the occasion, and at the close of the evening's play a chicken dinner was enjoyed by the group.

Matches have been played on many different courses during the summer by the group, and a fine spirit of fellowship has dominated the competition between the different communities.

Canyons Have Won 15 Mushball Games

Canyon A. C. have won 15 mushball games this season. They have arranged a seven game series with the Young Yankees.

One game will be played in the Lawrence County Baseball league today. The Polish Nationals will play Bessemer and on Tuesday the West Side is scheduled to oppose Bessemer on the latter's field Tuesday afternoon.

Franklin High Team Training

Coach Emmett Gillaspie Directs Squad Of 35 At Ben Franklin Junior High

Five Left From Championship Team Of Last Year; Wallace Assisting

Head Coach Emmett Gillaspie is training his Ben Franklin junior high school football team daily at Taggart field, and with a squad that numbers about 35. Gillaspie should turn out another championship team.

"Bill" Wallace is assistant coach again this year and is a valuable man to have helping out. Gillaspie and Wallace will look over the material carefully and select the best possible material for the various places on the team.

There is considerable weight on the squad this season. Several of the boys will tip the beams around 150 and 170, and that is considered big for junior high schools.

Five Veterans.

Only five veterans from last year are back this season, which means that Gillaspie will have to build practically a new team. None of the five remaining from the team last year were first string regulars.

Franklin's first scheduled game is with the junior high of Ellwood City at Taggart field on September 28. Another game with Ellwood will be played at Ellwood October 12. John Magee is faculty manager of the team again this year, having handled the job so satisfactorily last year.

Coach Gillaspie told the writer Friday afternoon that the following candidates look the best for the following positions:

Ends—Small, Ostrosky, Russo, Alexander and Hammond.
Tackles—Russo, Moser, Hawkey, Calazza and Minner.
Guards—Jokinen, DeMarco, Albert, Mitchell and Colla.
Centers—Vargo, Coppel and Cutler.

Quarterbacks—Mumford, Guido, Claypool and Miller.
Halfbacks—Paluso, Moess, Zingaro, Mundziak.
Fullbacks—DePorzio, Freed and Riley.

Merry Battle For Line Posts

Coach Bridenbaugh Developing Strong Line For Tough Opponents

BRADDOCK HIGH TIES WITH ERIE

There are several merry battles being staged at Taggart Field these fine afternoons, for positions on the New Castle High line. Coach Bridenbaugh sent the New Castle High squad through a stiff two-hour workout yesterday afternoon under a boiling hot sun.

With less than a week until opening game time, the squad was called to practice for this afternoon. No time is being lost in developing the team for the Braddock High game.

Line Is Strong.

New Castle's line this year is well fortified. It is going to be a powerful one. Right now it looks as if the starting line would consist of Kneram and Hitchens or Fleming on the ends, "Possum" Shelloog and Fred Shelloog on the tackles, Raskowski and either Sorto or Humphrey on the guards, and Joe Howley at center.

The reserves who have shown up well this year and will probably see a lot of action are Falkovitch, Johns, Gianni, Crisci, Tuscano, Miles, Perrett, McClelland and Workman. Klee and Thomas gave the linemen a stiff workout Friday in fundamentals and charging, also pulling out of the line.

Braddock High Tied.

Braddock High, the team that helps Pa. News's sons open the 1933 football season at Taggart Field next Friday night, was tied 6-6 at Erie, Pa., last night by the Strong Vincent High team. The Mercury hovered near the 80 mark and made real football out of the question but the teams battled through four periods to a deadlock. J. Marshall was the youth who scored for Braddock High. Strong Vincent had 16 first downs to nine for Braddock.

Nationals To Play Bessemer

One game will be played in the Lawrence County Baseball league today. The Polish Nationals will play Bessemer and on Tuesday the West Side is scheduled to oppose Bessemer on the latter's field Tuesday afternoon.

ST. NICHOLAS WINS

St. Nicholas mushball team handed the Croton Mushball team a 10 to 6 set back last night at Croton field, by bunching hits off Bonfield to score six runs in the final three innings. Dwyer hurled a steady game for the winners, allowing 11 hits, but he kept them well scattered.

Home runs were hit by Bob Kneram, Johnny Uram, Snow, Rubels, and M. Polenick. N. Uram, J. Polenick and Hnat also hit the ball hard.

Score by innings: R. H. E. St. Nicholas.....002 030- 5 6 1

Batteries—Croton, Bonfield and Aven. St. Nicholas, Dwyer and J. Polenick.

RADIATORS WIN

National Radiator mushball team handed the Young Yankees a 8 to 3 setback last night at the Radiator field. The Reds scored five runs in the first inning to take a commanding lead. The Young Yanks fought hard, but could not overcome that five run advantage. Fortune was the pitcher for the Yankees and Mauri heaved them up for the Reds.

Greene was the batting star of the game with three hits in four times at bat, while Joe Mazzeri poked one out of the lot for a homer.

SPENCERS TAKE GAME

Spencers mushball team won from the Oak A. C. last night at Roe Avenue Field in an East Side Mushball league game. Ed. Spencer blossomed out as a pitcher and did a fine job, wheeling the game away 10 to 9, after fanning nine men and allowing only a few scattered hits. E. Niemmo was the hurler for the Oak A. C. team. Ed. Spencer in addition to hurling a great game slammed out two homers to be the batting hero of the game. Shoaff also hit a homer.

ALEX MORRISON says:

Many times a player will get to hitting the ball decidedly to the left of his intended line of play.

The ball may fly in either a hook or slice curve without apparent reason.

The swing in both cases seems to be the same. In fact, it seems to be identically the same swing that affords the player a straight ball.

However, the player doesn't realize that he has changed his stance, particularly the position of his feet in relation to the ball. The relation of the feet to the line of play is one thing and to the ball something entirely different.

The faulty direction is no doubt due to having the ball too far forward of the feet.

Getting it back about opposite the middle of the feet will help.

Muny Manager's Birthday Observed

Family Gathering In Club-house Honors W. G. Fleming Last Evening

Members of the family of William G. Fleming, popular manager of the Municipal course, took time off from golf last evening, to honor "Bill's 40th birthday.

Covers were laid for 14 members of the immediate family in the dining room of the clubhouse, after darkness called a halt to Manager Fleming's duties for the day. It was a pleasant diversion from the regular order of things, for golf is eaten, played, and slept in the Fleming family from early spring until late fall.

Michaels Holds St. Andrews To Four Hits And Merchants Win Handily

ST. NICHOLAS UPSETS CROTON

East Side Merchants, upset the strong St. Andrews team at Gaston Park field last night 5 to 1, with Michaels hurling a fine game. St. Andrews only had four hits off Michaels, and the Merchants found Price for only six hits. The game was called at the end of the sixth on account of darkness.

The Merchants got to Price in two innings the third and fifth for five runs. Chuck Summers was the batting star of the game with a slashing triple. The Saints were whitewashed until the final half of the sixth when they put over a run. "Bung" Cutler's team won the first-half of the league season and are out for the championship.

Hospital Aide Sets Tentative Donation Dates

Food Donation Days For Jameson Hospital To Be In Late October

Friday and Saturday, October 27 and 28 have been set as the tentative dates for the annual Food Donation Days to be sponsored by the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide society.

These donation days, which in past years have brought hundreds upon hundreds of jars, glasses, cans and burlap bags full of fruits, jellies and vegetables for use by the patients of the Jameson Memorial hospital, have been greeted in a wholehearted and interested way by the people of New Castle and Lawrence county; their success has always been most gratifying to the sponsors, and appreciated by the hospital.

Announcement is made today that there are still a number of empty glasses left at the hospital and these may be secured by last year's donors who wish to donate again this year.

Miss Laura Stevenson, New Castle chairman, and Mrs. J. Norman Martin, Lawrence county chairman, have appointed committee women in the churches and granges of city and county. These women will be in charge of soliciting and collecting the food gifts in their various organizations.

According to highway patrolmen who investigated, the Hoffst machine sideswiped a car operated by Walter C. Shurlock of Enon Valley, swerved into a guard rail and came to a halt on the brink of a 50 foot embankment. The car turned over during its mad dash and Henry P. Hoffst, Jr., a son sustained a painful injury to his left hip. He received emergency treatment from an Enon Valley physician and was removed to his home.

The Hoffst machine was badly damaged although the other car escaped with only a crumpled fender.

Citizens Want Road Finished To Volant

Residents of Volant and Washington township are making an effort to have the state highway department complete the improvement of the New Castle-Volant road. When the road was built there was an error in the number of miles on which bids were asked, with the result that the concrete ends about one half mile south of Volant. The dirt road is rough and in wet weather gets in bad shape. The abrupt ending of the concrete renders the road dangerous to persons who are unfamiliar with it.

It is not known how many varieties of mosquitoes there are in the United States, but tests have revealed that some are carriers of disease. Others have not yet been branded as such.

Catching mosquitoes will be accomplished by employing chloroform tubes or bottles. The secret of success, it stands to reason, will be the tactful approach of the insects.

It is hoped that important information can be gathered by the Camp Thomas and other men. The battle on the pests will commence shortly under the direction of hospital attaches in camp.

Medical Study Planned
The army doctors, in conjunction with the U. S. Agricultural Department, will make a thorough examination of the specimens and seek to classify them.

George Forrest For Jury Commissioner

East Side Resident Candidate
For Republican Nomination
On September 19

George J. Forrest of 406 Florence avenue, known in every corner of Lawrence county, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for jury commissioner. A resident of New Castle 37 years and for a quarter of a century Mr. Forrest was in the livery business in New Castle, operating the Union Livery on East Washington street. His statement of announcement follows:

"Because of the fact that the office pays very little money, many people have given less thought to the office of jury commissioner than it deserves. It is an important office, for through the hands of the jury commissioners go the lists of the citizens who will be called upon to adjudge the life, liberty and property of the citizens.

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination. If nominated and elected I pledge myself to see that the jury lists are representative of the people of the county, that there will be no jury repeating, and that the work of filling the wheels will be done within the time limit set by the law, 65 days.

"The other contests are attracting the major portion of attention in this primary, but when the Republican voters are marking their ballots I ask them to remember that my name is ninth on the ballot for jury commissioner."
